

An aerial, high-angle photograph of a densely populated city, likely Washington D.C., showing a vast expanse of buildings and streets. In the bottom left corner, the large, white dome of the U.S. Capitol building is visible, partially obscured by trees. The word "Exposition" is printed in a white, serif font with a slight shadow effect, positioned in the middle-right area of the image. The overall color palette is a monochromatic blue-green, giving it a historical or archival feel.
